Strobe Tuner is a software for music instrument tuning based on the stroboscopic effect. This effect is now widely used in musical equipment such as tuners, metronomes, drum machines and synthesizers. The stroboscopic effect generates a time-varying analog signal whose pitch changes with a period less than that of the input signal. The effect is widely used in analog metronomes to provide a stopping or resting sound. Strobe Tuner works with any music instrument with a pickup, like keyboard, guitar, piano, etc. The response of TB Strobe Tuner is instantaneous when the signal is changing. You can use a reference instrument like piano or guitar, without an amplifier, to tune instruments like keyboard with the USB connection. By default, Strobe Tuner works with the music data sent by the USB interface when connected to PC. With TB Strobe Tuner, you can also adjust the pitch of the reference instrument. Please refer to the *Midi note* and *Pitch* tabs in the *Settings* section.
